MESSAGE

I am glad to know that the Khasi Authors' Society is celebrating its Silver Jubilee Year in September 2004. It is encouraging to note that the Society is striving to interact and exchange ideas relating to the progress and development of the Khasi language and literature. I am particularly happy to note that the North Eastern Hill University upgraded it upto the Honours level in 1976, M.A. level in 1981, M. Phil and Ph.D. since 1984.

The attempt of the Society to encourage new and upcoming talents from rural areas through Seminars and Workshops is most welcome. This will promote and develop the Khasi language in its entirety.

I wish the Silver Jubilee celebrations all success and hope that the Khasi Authors' Society will continue to play a leading role in making the Khasi language rich and blossom to its full potential.

MESSAGE

It gives me immense pleasure to learn that the Khasi Authors' Society is celebrating its Silver Jubilee and that a Souvenir is being brought out to commemorate this historical event.

Khasi language and literature which has come a long way since the year 1842 when Rev. Thomas Jones introduced the art of writing in Roman script, has now developed so much especially through the hard work and dedication of the Khasi Author Society and that the North Eastern Hill University, one of the premier Institutes of this country has now offered a course even in M.Phil and Ph.D Level. This energetic development of Khasi literature and contribution on the part of the Khasi Authors' Society, is commendable.

On this occasion, I convey my greetings to all members of the Khasi Author Society. May the Society continue in its efforts to promote and develop the Khasi language and to further enrich the Khasi Literature. It will be more appreciated if the Society encourages the Research Scholars of the younger generation to go deeper into their research works in enlightening the whole World about the richness of our socio-cultural heritages and the origin and nature of Khasi language and literature.

I wish the celebration a grand success.

Dear Mr. W.R. Laitlang,

I am happy to know that you are going to bring out a souvenir to mark the Silver Jubilee of the Khasi Authors' Society - 11th September, 2004. Accept my congratulations to all who are cooperating actively with you to make this occasion a reality.

I was told that the Khasi Authors' Society was formed in 1979 by a group of nine dedicated men who had vision and dreams for Khasi literature and language. They worked tirelessly to enrich the Khasi literature and language by writing and publishing their significant works. What began like a small seed is now grown into a tree bearing fruit, which nourish the Khasi society and our motherland. All writing is for humanity and operate beyond the narrow confines of time and space. The writers shape the world with their ideas, they inspire people to think and to discover. The Khasi Authors' Society contributes to a great extend in developing Khasi literature and language and spares no efforts in enlightening the people on the need to get the language promoted on the State and people's level. The Sahitya Akademi is sensitive to richness of the Khasi literature and language and has been helping in the promotion of this great heritage.

On this occasion I send my heartiest congrulation to all the members of the Khasi Authors Society and extend my good wishes for its bright future. I hope the souvenir that is brought out to mark the occasion will be well received.

MESSAGE

Khasi Authors' Society is celebrating the Silver Jubilee of its formation this year. The Society's contribution to the promotion of scholarly research into the origin and structure of Khasi language and to the growth of literature in its variety of forms, is unique and unmatched by any other comparable organisation. It is primarily through the efforts of the Society that, Khasi literature has now a secure place among the rich regional literatures of the country. There is, however, much more work ahead and I am sure, the Silver Jubilee celebrations will provide an occasion to take stock not just of the achievements but also to look into its future tasks and responsibilities.

I wish the Silver Jubilee celebrations all success.

SERICULTURE & WEAVING IN MEGHALAYA

Sericulture & Weaving are the two important labour intensive agro-based industries practised mostly in the rural areas. These twin industries portray the cultural ethos and rich heritage of the people of the state.

The Department has taken up number of need-based and self employment-oriented schemes aiming at increasing quality and value added products which are acceptable in the market in terms of affordable prices and durability for, the welfare of weavers and Sericulture farmers.

Handloom Weaving in Meghalaya an age old affair, descending down from generation from the time immemorial which has been practising by Khasi, Garo, Jaintia and other minority tribe of ethnic groups of the state like Hajong, Koches, Rabha's, Boro, Kacharis etc.

The products of Handlooms in the state are Dhara Dakmanda, Pathani, Endi, Chackdar, Bed sheet, Bed cover, Shirting, Gamocha, Napkins, Screen and the furnishing materials with ethnic designs & colour mixing made of Silk, Cotton, Acrylic & Eri Yarn.
